

Product Centric

GraphQL is driven by the data needs of the client and the language and runtime that support the client.

Strong Typing

A GraphQL server is backed by the GraphQL type system. In schema, each data point has a specific type against which it will be validated.

